FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCIAL BUSINESS was very dull ydester, but there is some increase of application for loans, generally of short date, and the course of deposits, since the opening of the month has been toward a lower average. Exchange is generally in barely sufficient supply, but two or three bankers were better off than on the day before. There is no change in rates, New York is taken at par and sells at 4 premium; New Orleans 4 discount tuying, selling at par. The Journal of Commerce sees things under a less rosy hue than some of the German, per pound, 6066c. Can—German, per pound, 6066c. Can—German, per pound, 6066c. Can—German, per pound, 6066c. under a less rosy hue than some of the other New York papers, it says: "General trade was duli, but better in some lines than it has been, and not so good as many dealers wish, and thought they had reason to expect. Among the importers very little is doing. The jobbers eport a good trade in small lots, and stocks are turned at a fair profit with at $25 and $25 50. less cost, and thus the aggregate of the season will show very satisfactory resuits." The following from the New York Bulletin, is a prediction worth noticing: "The banks are receiving currency from the interior, and are looking about with some auxlety as to how to employ it. 200; driving, $125@150; plug, $65@90; legitimate trade does not require mileh cows, $25(045, their facilities, they will be pretty sure to be taken up by speculators; and we 15 hands, $129@135; 154@16 hands, $135 opinion that the year will be a highly speculative one. Already speculation has become active in securities, as well as in some of the staple products of the country. The latter for the moment has culminated, but from all sides we bear that the pipes, so to speak, are being laid for speculation. In the long run, it would be much better if this were not so, although if speculation is not carried to extremes, it may do something to enliven legitimate trade and give the timid confidence; and the latter is yet needed, as even at this distance from the panie there are those who have not yet mirly, as the saying is, recovered their heads." Gold in New York was again at 115 and 1151, brokers were giving 114@1141. County appeared to be a little stronger and was taken by-

Nicolson pavement, "flat," at 30. THE COTTON MARKET yesterday was spiritiess and disappointing. The de- $23 50@24. crease of receipts naturally caused an expectation of stronger prices. The four expectation of stronger prices. The four days' receipts at the ports were 12 132 bates against 21,066 bates last week, and 17,455 bates last year. There was no corresponding response in the market. New York was dull and easier at 164c. New Orleans was quiet at 154c, Liverpool was dull and easier at St. Savan-nah quoted 151c, Mobile 151c, Charleston 16c, Galveston 15c. Here we have dull and easy markets, and in Mobile and Charleston some decline, with receipts strongly declining, yet cotton prices do not harden, but soften. To explain this we must refer, perhaps, to expressions in Euglish cotton circulars stating that the decrease in the American celpts has been discounted, and only news respecting the crop now planting can now sack. materially affect the market. refer to the answer in Watts's Liverpool circular in answer to the question why small receipts at the American ports do not cause an advance in price, "the short and plain explanation is that Liverpool is overwhelmed with cotton." In our market there was a moderate demand; there was auxiety to sell, but buyers were not content to pay the prices asked; their orders were generally limited below askings. Some buyers reported that round lots were within reach at important concessions. Actual sales included ordinary at 14%; good ordinary to low middling, 14ie; low middling, 15i@15ie; middling, 15ie; staple middling, 154c; middling to good middling, 16c. The following are the quotations of the cotton exchange, which emain unchanged:

brokers at 65. There was a sale of $3500

Buyers and seilers apart; lower to sell; cales 1650 bales, of which spinners took 800, exporters 250, speculators 200 bales. The New York Chronicle of Saturday has the following: "The weather has been more satisfactory for planting pur-noses the past week, but still, almost everywhere, the temperature continues lower than desirable and farm work is backward. By referring to our reports of last year it will be seen that excessive rains were then the complaint, and plantation work was said to be backward on that account." A correspondent says in the same paper: "Spinners in this country have used 150,000 bales, at the least calculation, less than last year. If we call the deficiency in Engand owing to factory laws and tendency to finer yarns, 150,000 bales more, we find a crop of 3,900,000 bales is really equivalent to one of 4,200,000 bales. The Chronicle, we observe, copies the Memphi April report of the condition of the cotton crop. It is the only report of the kind the cotton States have yet produced this season. It is the most omplete and satisfactory report of the and ever yet published. Its excellence is owing to the industry and skill of S. M. Gates, Esq., whose industry is boundless; his method of proceeding is sound and exhaustive, and he is master of his subject and the most active mem-ber of the statistics committee of the Intelligence was received by parties in the city yesterday that the Charles Morgan will be in from Cinciunati in time to leave this evening on her return trip. Maybe she will, it so all other floating craft had as well take in their horns..... Louisville caught a foot rise yesterday, from local rains......Our government gauge exposed one foot four inches more of its vane yesterday Captain Milt Harry returned to the city yesterday, leaving Captain Nat Green in command of the Cheek the remainder of the trip up White river. The Batesville, of the Milt Harry White river mail line, will be in port in time to-day to load and get away on her time this evening, and the Quickstep will drop down to receive for ers in marine circles yesterday. The lakes and piscatorial enterprises "over the river" present attractions for those who havenothing else to do. One man returned yesterday with fisherman's lucs, and bemoaning a misfortune simitar to the one that befel "Humpty
